As I observed the interest & progress of my daughter Bushra Ahmed in studies, I felt inclined to think, more than ever, about her future as a doctor that had always been my dream. For this very reason, I decided to get her admission in any of the best colleges of Lahore as no such college was present in my city which proved up to my mark. But in the meantime, I came to know of GIFT College and the substantial progress which it was making within 2 years of its establishment. For further assurance, I visited the college myself, met the Vice Principal of GIFT College, and as I came out of his room, I had already decided that my daughter will be doing her FSc (Pre-Medial) from this very institute.

Now I am much glad about my decision as my daughter has successfully done her FSc from GIFT and is now studying in one of the best Medical Colleges of Punjab - Allama Iqbal Medical College. This only became possible due to the guidance of dedicated faculty & congenial academic environment which GIFT promises. I am, therefore, compelled to say that GIFT College holds a unique position not only in academics but also in maintenance of discipline. It is, no doubt, emerging as a beacon of light in the world of education.

GIFT College has always been a pleasing place for me from the very first day of its inception. The wonderful physical resources coupled with the best available faculty, I had no other option to choose a place for my children studies better than this college.

First my daughter Ammara Niaz Awan secured position in the College with excellent marks in Board of Intermediate & Secondary Education Gujranwala Annual Examination 2004. Now my son Umer Niaz Awan secured 920 marks in the Board of Intermediate & Secondary Education Gujranwala Annual Examination 2005 and now both are studying in the best medical colleges of Punjab. All this has been possible due to Allah Tallaah and this institution. This college is God's gift in Gujranwala and we are thankful to staff and administration.

The experienced faculty of GIFT College not only instills the habit of rigorous and purposeful work but also groom the personality of students through different extra curricular activities to face the challenges of future. The management team plays equal role in the development of students while facilitating them in all respect including the counseling for their future plans.

I am proud to say that my son Aqib Zia secured 4th position in the Board of Inermediate & Secondary Education Gujranwala Annual Examination 2005 and its all due to the blessings of Almighty Allah Tallah and best efforts of faculty and management of the GIFT College.

GIFT College has a unique atmosphere unlike that of any other higher education institution today. A University education for the future, a place where teachers and non-academic staff will get to know you as an individual.

GIFT College is really a GIFT for the people of Pakistan in general and population of Gujranwala vicinity in particular. Institutions take decades to prove their identity but GIFT has achieved this goal right from the beginning. I am pleased to say that GIFT has now become one of the introductory topics of Gujranwala.

There is no institution in the world, which achieved the goal of confidence and success without highly experienced and good faculty. At GIFT I find height of experience seeing even my own teachers now teaching my kids. With a very beautiful and architectural views, ready to explore the abilities of leaders of future, to teach decency, to trigger the inspiration and to teach the gist for life. I appreciate this symbol of future building for the nation and hope that GIFT will develop excellent education. Allah may care for its creatures.

My daughter, Mahvish Sajjad, ever since she took up her studies the clouds of my fears and apprehensions for her education in a worthwhile institution thickened day in day out. Her brilliant academic record constrained me to seriously plan for shifting to a big city for the very purpose. When all at once light gleamed in this very city and my prayers were answered in the shape of the GIFT College a rising sun of the world of education in this country.

The most redeeming factor is the vision of the Board of Governors to maintain a high degree of discipline, creating congenial academic environment and acquiring the most learned and intellectual faculty. Its all due to the faculty guidance and the state of the at environment that helped my daughter Mahvish Sajjad, to get admission in the Institute Demont of Dental Sciences (BDS).

An institution like GIFT is a dream come true in city like GUJRANWALA. This institution is not less than any one in developed countries where I feel proud to have my children for their studies. As education plays an important role for the best future of any child and this can be only made possible by the institution like GIFT. GIFT is committed to do so by having professional and cooperative teaching staff who knows individual ABC of every student, excellent teaching facilities like of any modern world and highly energetic & keen Vice Principal with Man of Principles VICE CHANCELLOR.

I feel proud for associations with GIFT by having my daughter Hira Javid, Completed her FSc (Pre Medical) securing 914 marks in Board Annual Examination 2005. GIFT has made her bold enough to take part in any healthy activity along her studies. She is not a bookworm now. As a father I am confident enough that GIFT helped my child for the successful completion of her path to the best medical institution in a proud & excellent manner. Now the students of Gujranwala can also feel proud by completing their studies in GIFT without having any complex of inferiority from any other institution of Pakistan.
